Jive Mobile Module

Your enterprise. Now pocket-sized.

For most corporations, mobile workers are the customer-facing, revenue-generating engine powering their organizations. It only makes sense to arm them fully. People on the go still stay connected — and they love their devices. It only make sense to make it arm them fully to improve their productivity.

With our Jive Mobile Module, we offer a stunning native application for the iPhone and a significantly enriched experience for the BlackBerry and any other device that offers email access. Powered by Jive Mobile, employees on the road have all the organizational resources they need right at their fingertips.

- Work online or off: access the people in your network and the wealth of information in your community
- Let your employees work the way they want with the familiar tools they use in their personal lives
- Encourage more community involvement by putting your Jive SBS community in every pocket
- Add more ways to get value from your investment in Jive SBS communities

Jive SBS Mobile for the iPhone

The adoption of social media closely tracks the adoption of the iPhone, which made the iPhone a natural choice for our first native application on a smartphone. With Jive Mobile, iPhone users (and iPod Touch users) have full access to the robust functionality of Jive Social Business Software for online networking and collaboration. Jive Mobile also lets you leverage the unique properties of the iPhone, including integration with your mobile contacts, geo-location updates, and the built-in camera for photos on the go. Living on the iPhone: what could be easier?

Enriched capabilities for the BlackBerry & the desktop

The Jive SBS Foundation includes the ability to reply to and comment on content via email. Jive Mobile extends the standard reply functionality to allow you to create content via email as well, such as creating new blogs, discussions, documents, and statuses via email.

Mobile at a Glance

Puts enterprise resources in every pocket

- A virtual office for everyone on the road
- Around-the-clock connectivity and access to people and content

Saves time in situations where time is money

- A more productive salesforce directly feeds the top line

Increases the credibility of customer-facing personnel

- “Let me get you that document right now”
- “Let me hook you up with the right person for that right now”

Keeps everyone up to date — inside and outside the office

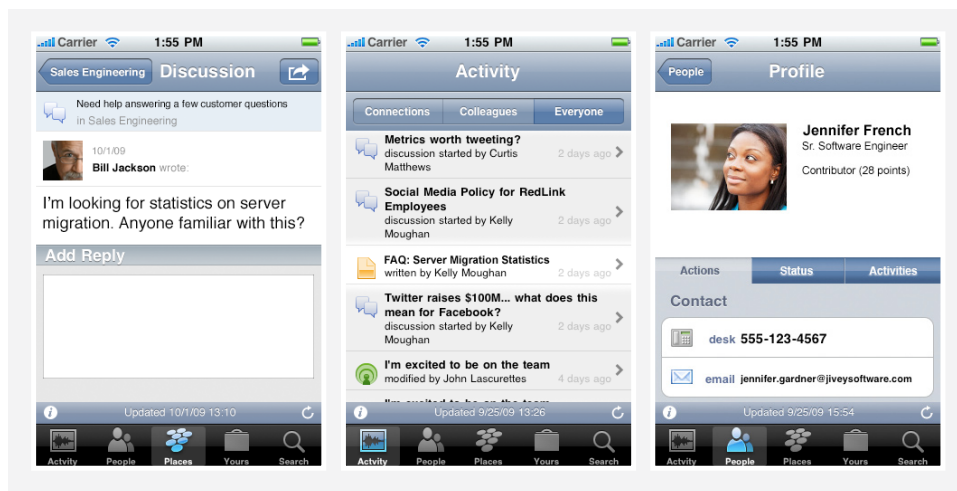

- “Were you able to set up the customer meeting?”
- “The customer wants two references — can we line them up?”

Jive Mobile also makes it very simple for anyone viewing a particular space or group to download a vCard for starting a discussion, document, or blog within that space.

How it works: Jive SBS Mobile for the iPhone

Jive SBS users don't just adopt Jive, they fall in love with its ability to help them network and collaborate in an open and natural way. iPhone users are equally passionate about its touch-screen interface, ease of use, and fluid interaction with applications. If you're a Jive SBS user on the go, you'll love Jive SBS Mobile for the iPhone. Now you can use your iPhone to do almost everything you can do on your desktop inside Jive SBS. Browse recent activity, click through to users showing interesting recent activity and call or message them, update the status about who you just talked to, and browse a space/group/project, then contribute to it. Jive SBS Mobile for the iPhone makes it a pleasure to stay fully involved in what's happening in your business community when you are away from your desk.

How it works: BlackBerry access to Jive SBS

Jive Mobile extends the Jive SBS Foundation reply via mail capabilities to allow users to create and post community content via email as well. Jive has taken a technology called vCard, originally designed for electronic business cards, and associated the profile data of each community space to an email address. Jive SBS users simply download the vCard for a particular space or group to their BlackBerry contacts list. They can then start a discussion, document, or blog within that space. Email notifications from particular spaces and groups provide links to reply to the content as well as links to create new content to facilitate direct authoring capabilities.
